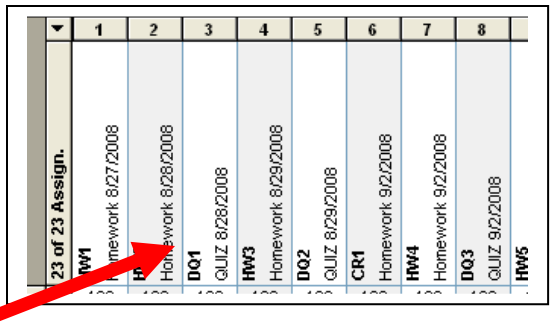
Weighting of an assignment is relative to the weights given to other assignments in the same category. The EasyGrade term for weight is "points".

The "Max Score" is the highest grade available on the assignment.

The "Points" value allows you to adjust the weight of the assignment against other assignments.

Currently, all of your Homework assignments have a Points value of 100. To make the CR assignments worth double, change the Points value on those assignments to 200. (The actual numbers don't matter. The ration of point values determines the weight. Point values of 1 and 2 have the same effect as values of 100 and 200.)

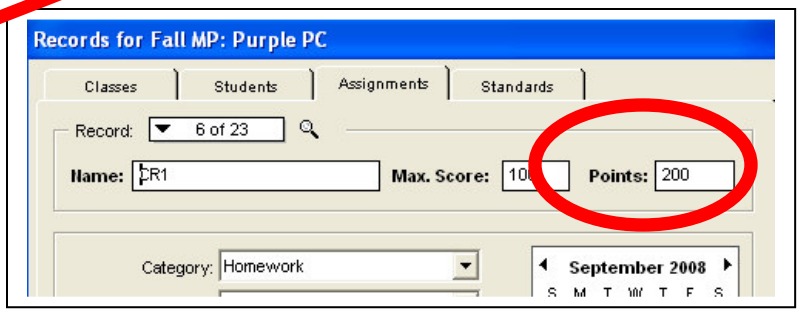


Changing the "Max Score" does not change the weighting of assignments. Calculations are done based on percentage of the max score.

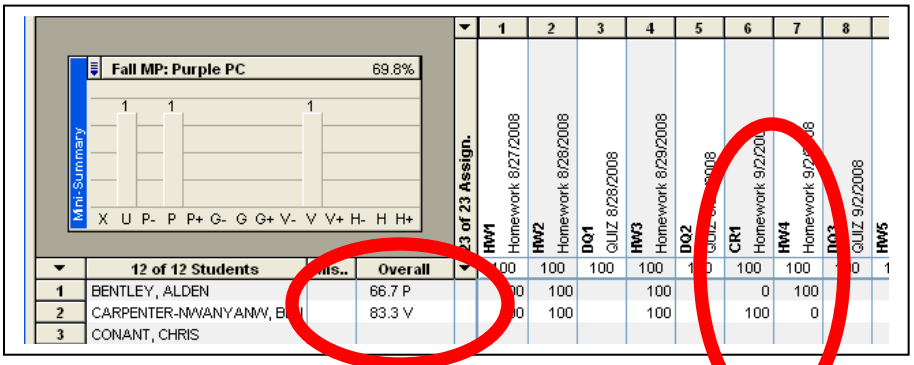
To change the weight assigned to an assignment, do the following:

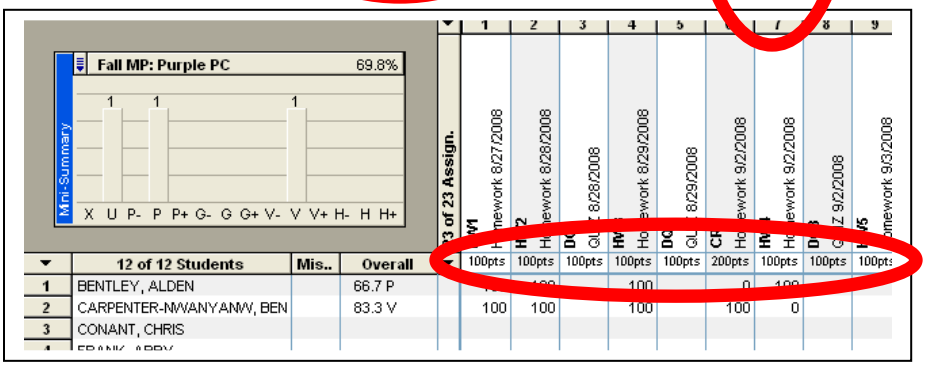
Double-click on the assignment entry in the grid at the top of the screen.

The assignment's record dialog opens. Change the "Points" field, and then click "Done".



A zero on a CR assignment has a greater effect on the grade than a zero on another homework assignment.





To display the point values instead of the max scores, click on the line that shows them. The display will alternate between points and max scores when you click on it.
